

Third week (21-26 May 2012)

After working hard, this week activities provided were more relaxed. As the purpose of cultural exchange, we took some photos with Balinese dress. In addition, we presented Thai food for Balinese friends.

While we enjoyed Balinese dress, our lectures joined the opened ceremony of Tulus Ayu Clinic (To You Clinic). This clinic has been established as a midwifery and child care clinic, with the purposes to deliver midwifery care and to provide the place for student practices.

End of the week, we presented what we had learned from the exchanged program. Not only faculty members and students from STIKES, did the directors from Thailand join the presentation. On Friday, the last day, we received the certification from STIKES.

Thank to STIKES Bali for all you have done.
